SELECTED PROJECTS

StudentSquare — A college marketplace project that brings student listings, housing, and campus resources into one place. The current prototype uses sample data to explore how students could buy, sell, and connect.

Rocky Digital Media — My photography and digital media project. I photograph fursuit portraits, convention moments, and groups, alongside the places and everyday details that catch my eye.

rocksishungry — A character-led home for Rocky’s social profiles and contact links. It brings my online creative presence together in a simple, playful page. The earlier rocks.dog repository belongs to the same website’s history.

My Personal Portfolio — A single-page portfolio bringing together my education, technical work, and photography. Built with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript.
